HOLLYWOOD GAME NIGHT
I LOVE ACHARADE
HOW TO PLAY

This game is team vs. team, so first divide yourselves into two TEAMS of at least two people each, but the more people, the merrier! You need at least one PERFORMER/CHARADER, and the remaining PLAYER(S) will be the GUESSER(S). But if you’d prefer to have multiple CHARADERS and fewer GUESSERS, that also works. One person should be the HOST so they can show the PERFORMER(S) their clues one at a time. You’ll also need a timer, like one on your smartphone, or a kitchen timer, or someone who’s got an old watch and can yell “TIME” after the seconds tick by.

Once your TEAMS are set and the CHARADER(S) are in place, set the timer for 90 seconds. When the game begins, the HOST announces the category and shows the CHARADER(S) their first clue. The CHARADER(S) begin acting out SILENT clues as the GUESSER(S) shout out their guesses until they get the clue right. Anyone can pass if their teammates seem clueless. HOST continues showing clues to the first team until time is up. Then it’s the other team’s turn. They’ll get a new category and set of clues.

The team with the MOST CORRECT answers in 90 seconds wins the game and a six-pack of beer or soda or whatever you’ve got in your trunk including jumper cables or an oily rag. Clues and categories are provided on the following pages. And remember the basic rule: CHARADER(S) MUST BE SILENT. That means NO mouthing things, too. No cheating!! Good luck!

*If you’re playing with friends via your favorite video chatting app, make sure your CHARADER(S) can be seen completely!

Play one of two ways!
One clue per page is best if you’re screen sharing. If you’re printing the clues, use the page with six clues on it to save paper. Then you can cut them out.
